

That Makes a Difference

The Father notices... in effect, he takes notes... he takes note of the fact of how you practice what it means to be a righteous person... one who is rightly related to Him

“The people walking in darkness”, have seen a great light” (Isaiah 9:2).

And how more ironic could it be that also, on this past Wednesday, *the people walking in light have seen a great darkness.

And if we are people who pray, darkness or the impact of darkness is sure to be what a lot of our prayers are about. And if we are people who do not pray, *it was probably darkness of one kind or another that has stopped our praying.

“You are the light of the world. A city set on a hill cannot be hidden;”

He came as the light of the world in order that in Him, *we become the light of the world.

We practice our spiritual disciplines so we can live an unrehearsed life.

He rewards us with Himself for the time spent in our spiritual disciplines
because it is time spent tuning our true heart to His.

They “have a form or godliness, Paul said, but (live in ways that) deny it’s power” (which is in a vital relationship with the Father) Paul concludes, “Have nothing to do with them” (2 Tim. 3:5). And Jesus concludes here, “Don’t be like them.”

That one very special place for prayer
where His children could meet with the Father. The new special meeting place for any believer to meet with God is any room that has a lock!

But it is interesting how we do find ways to advertise our private righteousness in public ways.

In spiritual matters, comparison is the thief of spiritual contentment and the fuel of spiritual pride.

Because He is a good Father, the “much” part of praying is not a requirement. But because He is so good,
it is no burden to talk with Him much.
