3:1-11

The background of the image is a clear blue sky with soft, wispy white clouds. In the upper portion of the image, there is a reflection of a garden scene, appearing upside down. This reflection includes various colorful flowers such as red, purple, yellow, and blue blossoms, along with green foliage and thin, vertical stems. The overall composition is bright and cheerful, with the text overlaid on the sky portion.

The Book of Philippians

“Paul’s problem was not that he couldn’t make the grade; it was that he did make it, only to find out that it was the wrong standard of assessment.”

-Jeannine K. Brown

Things we might find joy or happiness in are loss compared to knowing Christ. We're invited to upside down joy.

Jesus doesn't want our résumé. He wants relationship.

A photograph of various colorful flowers (red, purple, yellow, and blue) floating upside down in a body of water. The water is a clear, light blue color. The flowers are scattered across the top half of the frame, with their stems and leaves visible. The overall scene is bright and cheerful.

If you confess with your mouth, “Jesus is Lord,” and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved.

-Romans 10:9

“The gospel is simple enough for a child to understand, yet deep enough that a lifetime is not sufficient to fully grasp it.”

Baptism is an act of obedience.

Baptism is a picture of the gospel.

An upside-down photograph of a clear blue sky with soft white clouds. The top of the image shows a dense layer of green grass and various colorful flowers, including purple, yellow, and red blossoms, which appear to be floating or falling from the top. The overall scene is bright and cheerful.

What are you most proud of?

What are you most proud of?

Are you willing to lay it down, bury it, wash it, because of the surpassing value of Christ?

If you are feeling the Spirit's prompting to be baptized, we'd love to help you take that step.
